New Navy Policy Affects Draftees

Young men facing military service under the draft can now decide for themselves at what time and in which of the armed forces they will perform their required service instead of waiting for their draft board to issue induction orders.

This opportunity is the result of a new policy just announced by the navy through local divisions of the naval reserve. The new plan permits men who are members of naval reserve units to volunteer for active duty whenever they desire. It also permits them to volunteer for two, three or four year tours of active duty.

This policy differs radically from previous provisions which required reservists of draft age to await induction.

Santa Claus To Arrive In Parade Dec. 4

Arrangements to have Santa Claus arrive here with a big parade Dec. 4 and for another display of Christmas lights in the business section of Main street were made by the Andover Board of Trade at a recent meeting during which Donald B. Look was again elected president.

It was an enthusiastic group of members that attended the meeting and voted for the annual display of Christmas lights which add so much to the holiday atmosphere. The lights will be festooned across Main street as they have been in the past with a special arrangement for the large area in the square.

It was decided at the meeting to have the lights turned on Nov. 26, the day after Thanksgiving.

Propose Expansion Of Phillips Academy

Expansion of Phillips academy in future years so that the enrollment would be in proportion with the increasing population of the country was one of the main topics of discussion at the recent fall meeting of the trustees.

Announcement of the possible increase in the size of the school and that the budget for the current school year would top the $2 million mark were made by Headmaster John M. Kemper after the meeting.

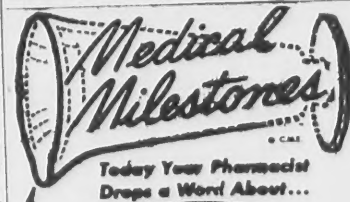

While no action was taken on the proposed expansion the problem was presented to the trustees, the Phillippian says, so that they may consider all aspects of the program over the next few months.

The problems that would accompany the expansion, the school paper continues, would be numerous, and if the plan were adopted it would be a long range program of (Continued on Page Two)

20 to 25 years.

The first step would probably be the construction of a new dormitory, not necessarily for the new students, but possibly for students who would have otherwise occupied some of the smaller houses which the school finds it impractical to operate. Along with the problem of whom the dormitory would be constructed for, would be the question of where it would be built.

Also some traditional facilities would have to be made available for feeding the new students. Obviously the Commons cannot accommodate any more boys.

Mr. Kemper reported the enrollment this year being the largest in the school's history.

The trustees approved leaves of absence for five faculty members who have been at the academy at least 15 years. Those approved were for George Grenville Benedict, dean of students; Hart Day Leavitt, instructor in English; Robert Edward Maynard, instructor in mathematics; Bartlett Harding Hayes Jr., instructor in art; and John Sedgwick Barss, instructor in physics in the George Peabody Foundation.

In reporting a scheduled budget of more than $2,000,000 for the school year the budget committee also noted that the cost of repairing and replacing trees damaged or destroyed by the hurricanes was fixed at $15,000.

duction orders before they could perform their required active service. Formerly, the only opportunity for young men to obtain immediate active duty was to enlist in the regular service for four years. Two or three year enlistments were not accepted.

"This new plan means that young men 17 years of age and more, should give serious consideration to joining a Naval Reserve unit while they are in high school," said James G. Prout of Andover, commanding officer of Surface Division 1-17 of Lawrence. "By so doing, they will receive several definite benefits. For example, upon graduation from school, a boy who holds membership in a naval reserve unit can volunteer for active duty immediately if he so desires. This will enable him to fulfill his military obligation promptly without waiting for his draft board."

"An additional benefit to the naval reservist is the fact that his association with an organized unit will give him an opportunity to earn one or two promotions before he goes on active duty."

Announcement of this new policy is expected to result in many enlistments in the two Greater Lawrence reserve divisions. Openings exist for young men from 17 to 18½ years of age, and also for veterans who wish to earn points for retirement and promotion. Complete information can be obtained any day at the Naval Reserve Training center on North Parish rd., Lawrence.

Never Again

THE little village shop did not seem to be doing very good business, and the customer, who had been chatting with the owner, thought he would make a helpful suggestion.

"What you want to do," he said, "is to advertise."

"Advertise? Not I!"

"Why on earth not?" asked the customer.

"I did once," came the reply, "and it darned near ruined me."

"Ruined you?" gasped the customer. "How on earth was that?"

"Why," responded the shopkeeper, "folks kept on coming in and buying things until they nearly cleaned me out!"

Our School Problem

Andover has a definite school housing problem.

The school population has been on the increase for several years and all indications are that it will continue to grow.

Last September the total public school enrollment was 237 over the opening day a year ago. That is the equivalent of a new six-room building.

The two new elementary schools recently built are overcrowded. Enrollment in the West elementary school is so great that the two upper classes have to be transported to the center of the town for classrooms. Shawsheen is using temporary rooms in the basement.

To meet this problem a new high school is being considered. The proposed plan is to give the present senior and junior high school buildings over to the growing junior high.

But is this the answer?

The grade schools need immediate attention. Only last week the school committee voted to have plans prepared for a six-room addition to the West school and a four-room addition to the Shawsheen school.

That means that the town now faces the prospect of building a new high school with a large auditorium for 1000 to 1200 pupils and a new athletic field, plus 10 new rooms on existing schools.

While these school needs are being considered The Townsman offers this suggestion:—

Make ALL of the elementary schools eight grades instead of six,

Do away with the junior high school, and

Give the present junior and senior high school buildings over to a four-year high school.

This would eliminate the problem of trying to find a suitable site for a new high school near the center of the town; it would reduce transportation of children to the center of the town from six years (three years for junior high and three years for senior high) to four years; it would eliminate the necessity for a new auditorium and a new athletic field.

It is in the outlying districts where the town will continue to grow. Build the schools there.

Youngsters Collect For Needy Children

Many of the children in the first six grades in the South church Sunday school asked their friends and neighbors for pennies to help others instead of candy for themselves on Hallowe'en.

These "trick or treat" boys and girls collected $90.58 to send to needy children all over the world to buy milk and medicine through UNICEF.

Local storekeepers contributed containers for the collection. Parents and others who helped with the project are grateful for the generous response of the people of Andover. Among those who helped the children are: Mrs. C. Edward Buchan, Miss Louella Dunning, Mrs. James Robjant, and Mrs. John C. Brown.

Attend Parents' Day For B. U. Freshmen

Local parents who were guests of Boston university for the Freshman Parents' day recently were:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodhead, 184 Elm st., whose son Richard is a freshman at the college of business administration.

Mrs. John Grecoe, 17 Florence st., whose daughter Margaret is a freshman at the school of fine and applied arts, division of music.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heifetz, 59 Bartlet st., whose daughter Phyllis is a freshman at the college of practical arts and letters.

The local campaign club paraded in Lowell Monday night and received a good ovation. The trip was made in a special train from Lawrence which stopped here at 7:30 p.m. to take on the company.

The Andover club Tuesday night held open house and many took the opportunity to drop in and hear the election returns.

A great Republican sweep throughout the nation elected Theodore Roosevelt president by the greatest vote ever recorded in the country's history. W. I. Douglas, a Democrat, has been elected governor of Massachusetts.

Andover gave Roosevelt 770 votes to 271 for Parker the Democrat candidate. It was the biggest vote in the town's history. Out of a total of 1336 registered voters there were 1149 who went to the polls.

The Russians are making their last stand at Port Arthur where the losses on both sides are heavy.

In an editorial note praising Janitor Saunders for the care he takes of the remodeled town house we say, "The building is a model of neatness and comfort and a credit not only to the town which provided it but the interested custodian of it."

An apron and necktie party held by St. Augustine's Sunday school teachers Friday night in the town hall was a great success. A special electric conveyed many of the dancers to Lawrence at the conclusion.

There will be a change of policy at the Colonial theatre, Lawrence, next Monday when there will be inaugurated weekly programs of high class vaudeville.

Football: P. A. 36, Lawrenceville (N.J.) 0. Büllock was sensational for Andover.

Exeter plays Andover here next Saturday. Both have strong teams. A large crowd is expected.

The Oliver Wendell Holmes library at P.A. was further enriched this week by the installment of Stuart Travis's remarkable historical map of the Town of Andover from 1830 to the present day. It is an admirable example of modern cartography.

The annual harvest supper and entertainment at the Free church parish house attracted a gathering of 200 Wednesday evening.

The number of books issued by the library during October was 4718. At Ballardvale 558 were issued.

Cong. Edith Nourse Rogers will be one of the speakers at the annual Armistice day exercises in the town hall.

Miss Jane S. Fitz-Henry of Cambridge was elected to teach the fourth and fifth grades of the Bradley school at Tuesday night's meeting of the school committee.

Relaying the Eastern Mass. Street Ry. tracks in Elm square has caused confusion there during the past week.

Prof. James Hardy Ropes '88 of Harvard university has been elected president of the Phillips academy board of trustees succeeding Alfred L. Ripley '73, who has held that office since 1908.

Mrs. John Maurice Ahern of Liverpool, England, founder of the Andover Mothers' club, was the guest of honor at the 30th anniversary tea held Wednesday. She renewed many acquaintances here who found her gracious personality unchanged since the days she was known in Andover as Miss Evelyn Reed.

Andover will play at Exeter next Saturday in the 50th annual contest of the two schools. It will be the first game to be played in Exeter's new stadium, Plympton Playing Field. Exeter appears to have the advantage in statistics.

J. Everett Collins was re-elected representative and all liquor licenses approved in Tuesday's election. For president Dewey and Bricker (R) received 3908 votes, and Roosevelt and Truman (D) 2027.

Mrs. Helen Thompkins of Lawrence was elected teacher at the North school at a salary of $1400 annually plus $2 a week bonus.

The ladies auxiliary to Clan Johnston, O.S.C., celebrated its 25th anniversary with a supper, entertainment and dance.

Sad news came to Andover again this week when Mr. and Mrs. Maxime Pelletier, 39 Beacon st., received word that their son, Sgt. Wilfred Pelletier, was reported missing in action, and Mr. and Mrs. Octave Bourdelais, 55 Chandler rd., received word that their son, Pvt. John W. Dancer To Perform For November Club

Irene Hawthorne, premier danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera association for two seasons, will be the guest artist at the meeting of the November club which will be held Nov. 15 at the Central elementary school auditorium.

Miss Hawthorne has also appeared as premier danseuse and choreographer for the Opera Nacional, Mexico, for two seasons, and as prima ballerina in the Theatre Guild's Broadway musical, "Sing Out Sweet Land." Her program will be varied and colorful, ranging from the fiery grace of traditional Spanish dances to the most exacting modern ballet, all executed with perfect technique.

New Civic League To Enliven Politics

At a meeting of the Andover Civic League in Memorial Hall library it was decided to hold a membership drive shortly in each precinct.

Officers of the newly-formed local political group are: Paul C. Gibbons, president; Vincent Tremor, vice-president; Dr. Harry V. Byrne, secretary; and Donald Burnham, treasurer.

Charter membership, it was decided, will be closed at the next meeting Dec. 2. Regular membership will remain open indefinitely. Newcomers to Andover are especially invited to join.

Believing that political interest in Andover is dormant, the club is anxious to enlarge its membership. It will operate as much as possible on a precinct-by-precinct or even block-by-block level.

Purposes of the club — which has no party affiliation, no interest outside Andover and no special candidates for office in mind — are:

1. To further the election of qualified persons to public office.
2. To co-operate with all civic organizations in effecting connected intelligent town government.
3. To promote a spirit of friendliness and helpfulness throughout the town.
4. To furnish information to members so that citizens of town may better understand economic and political principles and policies upon which town government is based.
5. To endeavor to insure and perpetuate good town government.

Sid Watson Ends Football Career

Sid Watson, former Punchard football star, closed a brilliant gridiron career last Saturday when his Northeastern university football played its last game of the season.

Captain and fullback of the Northeastern "Huskies" Sid capped his college career with a record that stands as a shining mark in the history of New England's small college football.

He is credited with gaining over 100 yards in every game he has played in the past two seasons, a total close of 1500 yards in the 14 contests, scoring 74 points in 1953 and 63 in the present season. Besides his offensive ability he is great on defense and at Northeastern he played about every position on the team except center.

Joe Zabiliski, coach of the "Huskies" says he is the greatest all-around football player he has seen all season.

Wedding...

Waters - Harrington

St. John's church in Wilson, N.Y., was the scene of a candlelight wedding service Friday evening, Oct. 29 when Miss Ida Mae Harrington of Wilson, formerly of Andover, was united in marriage to George Melvin Waters of Ransonville, N.Y. The Rev. Edward H. Kryder performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Warren A. Harrington, the bride wore a ballerina length gown with white lace bodice and full tulle and lace skirt over pale pink taffeta, with a fingertip veil of illusion, and a pink cap embroidered in pearls. She carried a lace-covered prayer book with a white orchid.

Miss Marcia Harrington, sister of the bride, was one of the bridesmaids.

A reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony.

What About Ulcers?

Even though an ancient physician described ulcer of the stomach almost two thousand years ago, this disabling condition is particularly associated with the fast pace of modern life. About 10 per cent of all Americans develop an ulcer some time during their life. The disease is actually an eroded crater in the lining of the stomach or its exit passage, the duodenum. The crater is created by over-production of potent digestive acids.

Fortunately, medical scientists are finding new ways of helping ulcer victims overcome this painful, sometimes fatal, gastric ailment. If you have an ulcer, luckily, you'll have pain. This is nature's warning. The pain is usually localized right under the ribs and occurs in bouts of fifteen minutes to an hour's duration.

Unchecked, the gastric acids, which have penetrated the membrane lining of the stomach, will eat their way right on through the rest of the muscular tissue, sometimes causing a dangerous hemorrhage or a dumping of the stomach's contents into the abdominal cavity and so bringing on peritonitis.

We know that highly seasoned foods, smoking and other indulgences can help cause peptic ulcer, but the mind is evidently just as important. Persistent worrying over business or personal affairs plays an important role too.

What can be done for ulcer sufferers? Physicians know that diet is very important, that snacks between meals put something between the stomach and the potent acids it secretes. Surgeons have tried cutting certain nerves which stimulate acid production, and drugs have been developed which inhibit these nerves.

None of these techniques, however, completely shuts off the destructive effects of acid, and the stand-by of the ulcer sufferer is still the antacid. The most commonly used antacid is bicarbonate of soda, which acts to take the bite out of stomach acids by neutralizing them to form harmless compounds. A more effective substance is Gelusil, which combines two acid-neutralizing substances, aluminum hydroxide and magnesium trisilicate. Such a drug combines with the acid and also physically coats the ulcer crater to protect it from further erosion.

One of the newest methods of ulcer medication is the use of the anti-secretory drugs, which inhibit over-secretion of gastric juices. Another line of attack on ulcers is the use of sedatives such as phenobarbital to cut down anxiety and nervous tension. If all these measures fail, the physician may recommend surgery, particularly if the trouble is located in certain areas of the stomach. Under surgery, all or part of the stomach may be removed or a new exit from the stomach to the intestine may be formed by the surgeon.

Most doctors agree that the ulcer patient can do a great deal to help himself live with his essentially incurable condition. He can watch his diet, trying to avoid irritating foods and stick to the bland ones. He can also try to avoid nervous stimulation and emotional crises. New medical techniques, in the long run, can only help the ulcer patient to help himself.

Information For Veterans

Q-Through an oversight, I paid my GI insurance premium just before the 31-day grace period expired. But I'm afraid the premium won't reach VA until after the grace period ends. Will my insurance lapse?

A-The postmark date on the envelope is considered as the date on which the premium was paid. So long as the postmark date is within the grace period, you will be protected.

Q-I'd like to convert my GI term insurance to permanent insurance. I have a $10,000 policy. Do I have to convert all of it at the same time?

A-No. You may convert either the entire amount, or any part of it, in multiples of $500 but not less than $1,000. For example, you could convert $5,000 and keep the remaining $5,000 as term insurance.

Q-Does the law require me to make a down payment, if I buy a house with a GI loan?

A-The law does not require a down payment. However, your lender has the right to ask for one, if he chooses to do so.

Q-Both my wife and I are World War II veterans. I used my GI loan entitlement to buy a house. Now we want to sell, and buy a larger house. Could my wife use her entitlement for a GI loan for the second house?

A-Yes. Both you and your wife are individually entitled to GI loans. The fact that you've used your loan entitlement would not prevent your wife from using hers.

Q-My daughter and I are receiving compensation payments because of the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. My daughter is past 18, but she is going to a school approved by VA. Will the compensation payments go on during her summer vacation? She intends to continue school in the fall. A-Yes, the payments may continue through the summer, so long as your daughter resumes her studies after the vacation period has ended.

Q-Assume that a veteran meets all the requirements for Korean GI bill training. May he enroll under this Act even though he has gone back on active duty and is now in uniform?

A-No. Veterans on active duty are not eligible for Korean GI bill training, even though they meet all the law's basic requirements.

Q-I signed up for the total disability income provision in connection with my National Service Life Insurance. If I become totally disabled and draw payments under this provision, will the face amount of my policy be reduced?

A-No. The monthly income benefits will not decrease the face amount of your policy.

That Did It

A mother was lecturing her little boy.

"Always watch your conduct," she said. "Never do anything that you would be ashamed of. Never do anything you would be ashamed to have the world watch you do."

"Whoopee!" yelled the boy.

He jumped around, did hand-springs and cart wheels.

"What's the matter with you?"

asked his mother. "Are you going crazy?"

"No," he replied. "You just told me I shouldn't do anything that I would be afraid to have the world watch me do. Hurray! I don't have to take any more baths."

Methuen Here Nov. 11

Punchedard will be host to Methuen at 2 o'clock the afternoon of Veterans' day, Nov. 11, in another of the annual clashes between the two schools. It will also be one of the deciding games in the Little Three series.

To date both teams have completed only a so-so season. In the Class C high school ratings Punchedard is in 37th place with two wins, four losses and one tie giving the team 12 points or an average of 1.71. Methuen is in a three-way tie for 44th place with one win, six losses for six points, an average of 0.86.

Regardless of these records both teams will be primed for this annual meeting and a good game should result.

Maynard 27, Punchedard 7

Scoring in every period Maynard ran away from Punchedard at the playstead Saturday 27 - 7. With Tom Duggan, a hard running fullback sparking its play, the Maynard team scored its second victory of the season in a game marked by several long runs.

In the first period Duggan went from his own 40 to the Punchedard 7 before being knocked out of bounds, and two plays later went over for the first score.

The Blue Devils made a bid to get back into the game when early in the second period Allan Wadman in two running plays went 60 yards to the visitor's 17 where the attack stalled. Then Williams, Maynard's right half, galloped 55 yards to the Punchedard 30. Maynard was set back 15 yards for clipping when Duggan broke away and ran 45 yards for a touchdown.

Maynard scored again in the third after Bill Fisher's punt was blocked on the 30 and recovered by Maynard on the 20. In two plays Duggan was over again for a t.d. In the fourth, after a 35 yard forward to the Punchedard 10 Williams slashed off right tackle for the visitor's final score.

Punchedard got rolling at that point and after a 60-yard drive Wadman went over from the 4. Vickers kicked the extra point.

The summary:
Maynard: Le, Fluski, DeGrato; lt, Jarmulowicz, Forsyth; lg, Larson, Chandler; c, Carlson, Lowe; rg, Gigas; rt, Peterson, Kulja; re, Martino, Bernier; qb, Tenniman, Watjus; lb, Warila; rhb, Williams; fb, Duggan.

season's record means little going into this game. In this connection it is interesting to note that Tufts Fresh, which topped Andover last Saturday by a lone touchdown, 6 - 0, trounced Exeter the week before by a 32 - 0 score.

However, this will not mean much in Saturday's game, which, from all accounts should be a great one. In the series Andover is on top with games won but Exeter has had the most one-sided victories, as evidenced by 44-4, 59-0, 78-7 and 37-7 triumphs over the years. In 1953 Andover won 59-0 and last
